David,

You'll recall that the court in the ME WQS litigation ordered the parties to submit a proposed scheduling order to govern during the remand. The legal team has prepared a draft of such an order, see attached. Dave Carson at DOJ has reviewed. The draft reflects discussions and an agreement in approach between EPA and the other parties to the litigation.

Although the filing is not due until next Friday, December 28th, the parties agreed that it would be ideal to have it filed by this Friday, December 21st, due to the holiday next week. We have not yet shared this draft with the other parties. We will do so upon your approval.

Thanks,
Mike
